Cultural IP Month 2023 for Educational Institutions

Introducing Cultural IP Month to the next generation of designers

Date: Wednesday 19th April the Knowledge Drop will be shared on the CIPRI Library

This CIPRI Knowledge Drop is for educational institutions. Designed for educators to share what Cultural Intellectual Property Rights® are and inspire the next generation of designers to be advocates for Cultural Sustainability to create systemic change.

There are various stakeholders responsible for understanding and practicing in compliance with Cultural Intellectual Property Rights® including educators and students whose disciplines can impact Cultural Sustainability.

The fashion and creative industries have a lot to unlearn and relearn to conduct their practices in compliance with Cultural Intellectual Property Rights®, however, the next generation of designers are eager to learn best practices from their initial educational experiences to be able to step out into the industry with the tools to change the world.

This CIPRI Knowledge Drop for Cultural IP Month 2023 introduces educators and students in educational institutions to the theme Cultural IP Rights are Human Rights and builds on the key word: Alliances by including educators and students in the conversation on Cultural Sustainability.

This Knowledge Drop was crafted by Monica Boța-Moisin - Lawyer, Founder of the Cultural Intellectual Property Rights Initiative® (CIPRI) Cultural Sustainability Weaver at Cultural Sustainability Academy - the Knowledge Hub for Cultural Sustainability® (CSA) and Nicole Crouch - Textile designer, Lecturer, Academic Research & Creative Industries Lead at CIPRI and facilitator at the CSA. Nicole is the go to person for collaborations with academic institutions.

The CIPRI team has expert services to design resources for educational institutions, and this Knowledge Drop is an example of the type of curriculum developed by CIPRI. Reach out to us to receive support to develop a curriculum on the topic of Cultural Intellectual Property Rights® and Cultural Sustainability at your educational institution.
